Elephant and friends

One day an elephant wanders into a forest in search of friends. He sees a monkey on a tree. "Will you be my friend?" asks the elephant. The monkey says, "You are too big. You can not swing from trees like me."

Next, the elephant meets a rabbit. He asks him to be his friend. But the rabbit says, "You are too big to play in my burrow!"

Then the elephant meets a frog. "Will you be my friend?" he asks. "How can I?" asks the frog. "You are too big to leap like me."

The elephant is sad. He meets a fox next. "Will you be my friend?" he asks the fox. The fox says, "Sorry, you are too big."

The next day, the elephant sees all the animals in the forest running for their lives. The elephant asks them what happened. The bear says, "There is a tiger in the forest. He's trying to eat us all up!" The animals all run away to hide.

The elephant walks up to the tiger and says, "Please, Mr. Tiger, do not eat up these poor animals." "Mind your own business!" growls the tiger. The elephant has to kick the tiger. The frightened tiger runs for his life. All the animals thank the elephant. They say, "You are just the right size to be our friend."

1. Listen to and read the text about a still life.

Still life

A still life is an artwork of a group of things that are not moving. The things in a still life are standing still. Food and flowers are the most popular things for still lifes. There are many beautiful still lifes in art museums.

An artist can create interesting and beautiful compositions of colours, shade, tint and tone. In Breakfast, Ukrainian artist Kateryna Bilokur shows us a tabletop with a loaf of bread, a bowl of potatoes, a plate of vegetables, a vase with flowers, a big jar and a cup. It is a 1950 still life.

Zaporizhian Sich/kharakternyks/Khortytsia Island?

2. Listen and read.

The Ukrainian Cossacks

The Ukrainian cossacks came from different places, and went to the south to hunt, fish, and make goods.

The name cossack means 'free man'. The term was first used in 1395. They had their own army and took part in wars. The cossacks spread the term 'Ukraine'. Most Ukrainian cossaks lived in Zaporizhian Sich. The rules of Zaporizhian Sich were very strict, and the discipline was excellent. For example, if a cossak stole something, other cossaks could beat him to death.

Legends say that there were unusual people called kharakternyks among the cossacks. People thought that they could tell the future, speak twelve languages, turn into wolves and other animals, walk on water and stay long under water.

Nowadays, Khortytsia Island, where there was Zaporizhian Sich, is the largest island on the Dnipro River. It is 12.5 kilometers long. Tourists like to visit the complex "Zaporizhian Sich" there. It looks like the cossacks' capital many years ago. You can see there a church, a kurin' (house), an office, a school etc.

Columbus Day

The second Monday of October is Columbus Day. People celebrate this holiday only in the United States of America. Why?

During Christopher Columbus' time people thought that our planet was flat. Christopher Columbus was born in an Italian city on the coast of the sea. Every day he watched how the ships left the port and went into the sea. He thought that the Earth was round, but people didn't listen to him. Columbus wanted to sail to the West and get to the East. The king of Spain gave him three ships to travel and test his idea.

After a long and difficult voyage on 12 October 1492 Columbus and his men got to North America. It was the New World. After that America was born.

Today American people celebrate Columbus Day with colourful parades and fireworks.

Reading and Speaking

2. Discuss in pairs.

What do people need to grow? (food, ...)
 What do plants need to grow? (sun, ...)

3. Listen and read. Were you right?

What do plants need to grow?

We need to eat food and drink water to grow. Plants need water too, just like us. But plants don't eat anything. They make their own food.

Fertilisers have nutrients in them. Plants use nutrients to help them to make their food. Plants need water, light, warmth, space, nutrients, soil.

Why do they need these things?

Plants use light to make their own food. This process is called photosynthesis.

Plants die if it is too cold. They need warmth to grow.

Plants need nutrients to help them make their own food. Plants need water for photosynthesis. The water also takes nutrients to the plant by the roots.

Plants grow faster when they have space. They also need soil.

Can you name six things plants need to grow?

4. Choose the right answer.

- Plants make their own _____ .
A space B fertiliser C food

The Universe contains everything — the Earth, planets, stars, space, galaxies, and even time. No one knows how big the Universe is. It is growing larger and larger all the time. Some scientists think that the Universe is getting colder and may freeze some day.

The Earth, which seems very big to us, is a very small part of the Universe. The Sun is only one star in the Milky Way galaxy. Scientists think that there are more than 170 billion galaxies and more than 300 billion stars in the Universe. There is no centre of the Universe.

The Solar System consists of the Sun, eight planets and many smaller objects that move around the Sun. The Earth moves around the Sun. The Moon moves around the Earth. We on Earth have just one moon, but some planets have many of them, others don't have any.

4. Mark the sentences true (T) or false (F). Correct the false sentences.

1. Scientists know how big the Universe is.
2. The Universe is becoming colder.

Bill: Hey, guys!

Rob: Glad to see you!

Mia: How was your trip?

Emma: It was fantastic!

Rob: Did you visit New York?

Bill: Yes! We spent there a week!

Mia: What did you like the most?

Emma: Central Park, of course! It is a park in the centre of the city. There are skyscrapers all around it. People like to rest in the park. They play games, have picnics, cycle, run, walk there.

Bill: Yes, Central Park is a nice place. But I liked to walk along the busy streets. My favourite place was Times Square. There are huge screens, bright lights there. The square is full of artists, actors.

Bill: Oh, I almost forgot! We bought you the souvenirs with the Statue of Liberty.

Rob: Oh, thank you. Did you see it?

Bill: Of course! We'll show you the pictures!

UNIT 1

TOM THUMB

Once upon a time there lived a man and a woman, who had no children. One evening they saw a falling star, and the woman said, “I wish for a small baby!”

Seven months passed, and the wish came true. They had a child no longer than a thumb. They called him Tom and loved him very much. The boy became wise and nimble.

One day the boy said to his father, “I can help you with chores. Please, father, let me take the horse to the field. I can sit in the horse’s ear and tell it where to go.” As they were going through the woods, they met two men. The men saw a little boy in the horse’s ear. “Where are your parents?” they asked the boy. “Good day! We have great news for you, mister! We will give you a lot of money for your boy! He will travel with us, and he will be rich!” the men said to Tom’s father.

Tom Thumb jumped on his father’s shoulder and said, “Let me go with these two men and take the money. I will come home soon.” He sat on one of the men’s hat, and they left.

When the men stopped for lunch, Tom Thumb ran into a mouse hole. The men tried to get him out of the hole, but they couldn’t do it. The men had no choice. They went without the boy. Tom was ready to sleep when he heard the robbers who wanted to get into the big house. “I will go into the house and I will help if you take me with you,” Tom Thumb said. They went to the pastor’s house.

Inside the house Tom Thumb woke up one of the maids. The robbers ran away. They didn’t see Tom Thumb, so he went to sleep in the hay. A cow ate the hay, and Tom got into her stomach. “Help me! I am inside the cow!” Tom Thumb shouted. The man killed the cow that day. He threw the cow’s stomach away. A hungry wolf came and gulped the stomach. “I know a house not far from here, which is full of food,” Tom said from the wolf’s stomach. The wolf came into the house. Tom Thumb’s father killed the wolf and got Tom Thumb out. They gave him food, drink, new clothes and lived happily ever after.

PINOCCHIO

Once upon a time there lived a man. His name was Geppetto. One day he made a beautiful puppet boy. He put a puppet on a chair and started to clean the floor. The puppet danced and talked. Geppetto named him Pinocchio.

It was time for Pinocchio to go to school, but Geppetto didn't have money to buy Pinocchio his school things. He sold his coat to get the money to Pinocchio. Pinocchio took the money and went to school.

He saw a big colorful circus tent in the street. Pinocchio gave his school money to the clown and went to the circus. The puppet master wanted to have him in his puppet show. He put Pinocchio in a cage. A fairy helped him, and Pinocchio went to school again. The cunning fox and his friend cat stopped him in the street. They told him to plant the money in the garden. Pinocchio gave his money to the fox. He stood in the garden for a long time. When the fairy asked Pinocchio about the money, he said, "My school things are at school."

Suddenly his nose started to grow. "Are you telling the truth?" the fairy asked. When Pinocchio told the truth, the fairy made his nose small again. She gave Pinocchio the money one more time.

The circus owner caught the boy and threw him into the sea. Pinocchio started to swim, but a big whale swallowed him.

Geppetto heard from a fisherman that Pinocchio fell into the sea. He took a small boat from the fisherman and went to sea. The big whale swallowed Geppetto too. He went straight into its belly and saw Pinocchio crying there. Pinocchio hugged Geppetto and said that he was sorry.

The fairy saved them. After that, Pinocchio became a very clever boy and always listened to his father. He went to school every day, helped Geppetto, and they lived happily ever after.

ALADDIN

Once upon a time there lived a poor woman and her son Aladdin. One evening a man came their front door. "Good evening," he said. "My name is Mustafa. I am Aladdin's uncle, a magician. I will take Aladdin to work for me."

Aladdin didn't like Mustafa, but his mother told Aladdin to go with his uncle. They walked for a long time and came to a cave. The cave entrance was too small for Mustafa, so he asked Aladdin to go inside. He told Aladdin that there was a treasure in the cave. "Take as much gold as you want. Find an old lamp for me. I will pull you out of the cave," Mustafa said.

Aladdin filled his pockets with gold and found the lamp for Mustafa. He didn't want to give Mustafa the lamp because he didn't trust him. Mustafa got angry, "Listen, you, I am not your real uncle. You don't want to give me the lamp, and I will close the cave with this big rock," he shouted and left.

The boy sat in the dark cave with the lamp in his hands and cried, "This old lamp doesn't even work!" He rubbed the lamp to dust it. A genie suddenly came out of it! "Master, I will make your three wishes come true! Be careful what you wish for!" he said. Aladdin asked to take him home. The next moment he was at home with his mother, who didn't know what to do. Aladdin told her about the cave and the treasure. They were rich now because they had the gold from the cave.

One day Aladdin saw a very beautiful girl in the city. He fell in love with her. She was the princess, the sultan's daughter. She liked Aladdin too. A few days later Aladdin went to ask the sultan for his daughter's hand. "My daughter can only live in a palace," the sultan laughed. "She will have the palace," Aladdin answered. The genie helped him again. The next morning the princess' new palace was near the sultan's palace. When she married Aladdin, Mustafa heard the news. He had a plan how to get the lamp. He gave the princess a new lamp for an old one when Aladdin was not at home.

As soon as he got the lamp, Mustafa rubbed it, the genie came out of it and said "Master, I will make your three wishes come true! Be careful what you wish for!" Mustafa's wish was to take him, the princess and her palace far away. When Aladdin came back in the evening, he couldn't find his wife and palace.

Then Aladdin went to look for his wife. He walked for a long time, and finally he saw their palace. The princess was very happy to see Aladdin. When Mustafa fell asleep, she took the lamp and ran to find Aladdin. They asked the genie to take them and the palace back and left the magician in the desert. They had no wishes left, so they took the lamp to the cave and lived happily ever after.

UNIT 4

GINGERBREAD MAN

A long, long time ago an old woman and an old man lived in a small cottage by the river.

One day the woman decided to make some gingerbread for Christmas. She mixed flour, ginger, butter, sugar, bicarbonate soda, syrup and eggs in a bowl, and then she made the dough. She made bread and put it in the oven to bake.

When the ginger bread was ready, the woman opened the oven door, but to her surprise the Gingerbread Man jumped out of it. "Don't eat me!" he shouted and ran out of the window.

The woman and the man wanted to catch him. "Stop! Stop!" they shouted, but he was faster than they were. "Run, run, as fast as you can! You can't catch me, I'm the Gingerbread man," he laughed and ran.

The old woman's pig tried to eat him, but the Gingerbread man was faster. "Run, run, as fast as you can! You can't catch me, I'm the Gingerbread man," he said and ran. The pig couldn't catch the Gingerbread Man. She went back to the farm. The Gingerbread man didn't stop.

Further on he came across a cow. “Stop!” shouted the cow, “I want to eat you!” The cow tried but couldn’t catch him. “Run, run, as fast as you can! You can’t catch me, I’m the Gingerbread Man,” he sang his song.

Then the Gingerbread Man came across a horse. “Stop! Don’t run away! I want to eat you!”, the horse said, but the Gingerbread Man didn’t stop. “Run, run, as fast as you can! You can’t catch me, I’m the Gingerbread Man!” he laughed.

He stopped at the river. “Oh, no! Now they will come and eat me! I must cross the river,” he thought. Suddenly a fox ran up to him. “Please, don’t eat me,” cried the Gingerbread Man. “I won’t eat you,” the fox answered. “I want to help you! Jump on my back. I will swim across the river, and you will be safe.”

The Gingerbread Man had no other choice. He jumped on the fox’s back, and they crossed the river. The fox wanted to eat the Gingerbread Man, but the old woman saved him. She took the Gingerbread man home and made a beautiful little gingerbread house for him. Inside the house there were tables and chairs, and a big soft sofa. And in this gingerbread house the little gingerbread man lived happily ever after.

UNIT 5

THE EMPERORS’ NEW CLOTHES

Once upon a time there was an emperor who liked new clothes. He didn’t care about his country. He changed his clothes ten times a day.

One day two swindlers came to the city. They told everyone that they knew how to make the most beautiful clothes. The clothes were so fine that stupid people could not see them.

The emperor wanted to have the new clothes and paid the swindlers a lot of money. They asked for the finest gold and silk thread. They pretended to work hard day and night.

The Emperor sent his first minister to check. “I can’t see anything at all,” the minister thought, but he was afraid to show that he was stupid. He couldn’t see anything because there was nothing to see! “Tell us what you think of them, aren’t they beautiful?” asked one of the swindlers. “Oh yes, they are, of course!”, the old minister said. “What a cut!”, he added. “Thank you! We work really hard,” the swindlers lied. When the first minister returned to the palace, he had to lie. He said that he loved the clothes, but they weren’t ready yet.

The Emperor went to see the clothes with his noblemen. He saw nothing, of course. “So, these two could see them, and I can’t? Am I stupid?” the emperor thought. “I love these clothes!” he said. Some of the noblemen asked the emperor to wear the new clothes on the day of the procession.

The day of the procession came, and the swindlers said that the Emperor's new clothes were ready! "Here are the trousers, and this is the shirt and the coat! They are so light that your Majesty will think he has nothing on." They helped the emperor to put on his new clothes. The Emperor took off his old clothes. The swindlers pretended to dress him. The emperor looked in the mirror. He had nothing on!

"Beautiful!" his noblemen said. The Emperor started the procession. Nobody saw the clothes, but they didn't want to look stupid.

"But he isn't wearing any clothes," a little child said. "Don't listen to him, he is just a little boy," said the child's father. But then another person said to his friend, "He has nothing on!" And then the third person repeated his words. People shouted, "The Emperor has no clothes on!" "Oh, well, the procession has got to go on," thought the emperor as he walked in his underwear.

UNIT 6

SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

Once upon a time a queen sat by the window. She loved winter and snow. She gave her baby daughter the name Snow White because of her beauty. Unfortunately, the queen died. The king married again. Snow White lived at the castle with her father and her stepmother. Her father was a good man, but her stepmother was an evil woman.

The queen had a magic mirror. She often asked it, "Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the fairest of them all?" And the mirror always answered, "You, my queen, are the most beautiful woman in the world!" The mirror always told the truth. The queen loved to hear that she was the most beautiful woman in the world.

Snow White grew and became a great beauty. One day the mirror told the queen, "Snow White, my queen, is the most beautiful woman in the world!"

The queen was very angry. She called her guard and told him to take the girl to the forest, kill her and bring the heart back to the castle.

The guard had a kind heart. He told Snow White to run away. On his way to the castle he killed a pig and took its heart to the queen. The queen was happy.

At the time Snow White found a small cottage in the forest. It had very small windows and a small door. Snow White entered the house. She saw seven very small plates and cups on the table. The girl was hungry. She ate a little from each plate and drank a little from each cup.

After that, Snow White went to the bedroom and fell asleep on one of the seven little beds. Soon the cottage owners got home. They were seven dwarfs, who worked in the mine every day. They saw Snow White and were surprised. Snow White told them her story. The dwarfs liked her. She cooked their food and was kind. They asked her to live with them. In the morning they went to work.

That morning the queen talked to her mirror and understood that Snow White was not dead. She dressed as an old woman, took a poisonous apple, went to the cottage, and gave the apple to Snow White.

When Snow White bit the apple, she fell on the floor. The evil queen ran away. When the dwarfs came home, they thought she was dead. The dwarfs were very sad. They laid Snow White in a crystal coffin.

One day a handsome prince came to the forest on a black horse. He saw Snow White and fell in love. His magic kiss lifted the evil spell, and they all lived happily ever after.

UNIT 7

THE GOLDEN GOOSE

Once upon a time there lived a man. He had three sons. The older brothers didn't like their younger brother. They called him Simpleton.

One day their father asked the eldest son to go to the forest to chop wood for the winter. Their mother gave him a cake and a bottle of milk. In the forest he met an old man who asked to give him some food. "I only have one cake and one bottle of milk. I can't give them to you. Goodbye!" the son said. The man put a spell on the eldest brother. The son started chopping the first tree and hurt his arm. The boy had to go home.

Then the second brother went to the forest. He had a cake and a bottle of milk too. He met the man but didn't share his food. The man put a spell on the second brother. He hurt his leg and had to go home.

On the third day Simpleton went to the forest. His mother gave him some old bread and a bottle of water. He met the old man on the way into the forest. "Can you give me something to eat and drink?" the man asked. "I will be happy to share!" Simpleton answered. The man turned the bread into a sweet cake and the water into milk. They ate and drank together.

"You are very kind," the man said. "My present for you is in the roots of that old tree," he said and went away. Simpleton looked under the tree, and in the roots he saw a golden goose. The goose had gold feathers! He took the goose under his arm and walked to the nearest inn to spend the night. The innkeeper's three daughters saw the goose, touched it, and stuck to it.

In the morning Simpleton went to the city. He carried the goose. The girls had to walk with him because they were stuck to the goose. On their way they met a vicar. The vicar touched the youngest girl to pull her away, but his hand stuck to hers. After that they met many people who also stuck to their procession. Finally, the procession came to town.

The King of that town had a problem. His daughter never laughed. Simpleton went straight to the King's daughter. When she saw the funny procession of people and a golden goose, she started to laugh so much that her stomach hurt. She liked Simpleton a lot, and they got married.

His parents and his brothers never called him Simpleton again. They always used his real name, and they all lived happily ever after.

UNIT 8

THE BREMEN TOWN MUSICIANS

Once upon a time there was a donkey who lived on a farm with his master. The donkey worked very hard and wanted to leave his master to become a musician. He went to the town of Bremen.

On his way the donkey met a dog. "Will you come with me to Bremen?" asked the donkey. "Let's become musicians. You can play the drums, and I will play the cello." The dog agreed.

Further on they met a cat and invited him to go with them to Bremen and play the violin. They passed by a castle. In the castle they saw a rooster who sang very loudly. "They are going to cook me in a soup and eat me tomorrow," he said. The donkey invited him to be a singer in Bremen.

The rooster jumped on the donkey's back, and the four went to Bremen. In the evening they wanted a shelter for the night. They saw a house. The donkey looked through the window and saw the robbers who ate dinner. The four friends were very hungry. The dog climbed on the donkey's back, the cat stood on the dog's head, and the rooster was on the cat's back. They started their concert. "Hee-haw!" brayed the donkey, "Woof-woof!" barked the dog, "Meooooowww!" said the cat and "Cock-a-doodle-doo!" cried the rooster.

"Help! Ghosts!", cried the robbers and ran away. The animals went into the house. They ate dinner and were very happy. Then they went to sleep and saw sweet dreams about Bremen.

The robbers didn't have a place to sleep. The chief robber sent one of them to check the house for ghosts. The robber came to the door and listened. Then he went into the kitchen. He wanted to light a fire. The cat scratched him, the dog bit the man's leg, the donkey kicked him. Then the rooster cried and started flying around.

The robber ran back and said "It's not just ghosts! There are witches in the house! We should go away!" So, the animals stayed in the house and lived there happily ever after.
